

Remarks

The foregoing amendments to the specification are minor editorial changes to improve the readability of the description of the invention. The change in paragraph 0061 makes the terminology in the penultimate sentence of that paragraph agree with the terminology used in the last sentence. The change in paragraph 0064 makes the second sentence of that paragraph consistent with the third sentence and improves accuracy of each. The other changes deal merely with the use of numerals.

Entry of this paper prior to issuance of the patent is respectfully solicited.

Respectfully submitted,
